Innovation stands on creativity which needs the courage to give up certainties

„Taking part in this project has opened our minds to a new world, has changed our vision. We have met children and teachers from many countries, we have talked about innovation, an interesting subject for many people nowadays. It is very interesting to talk about ways of modernising what it is, what it is happening around us and to see so many people, from different countries and traditions, with various ways of life who get together with the same purpose: to change at home what they can. We came back to our country and we were aware of our task: to develop the project meant to improve or to solve the problems of our school or our community. Now we need other students to join us in order to accomplish our task. I am very happy to be a part of this project. I have always wanted to help others. Your dreams come true if you really want that” – student Maria Preda, VIII C grade.

„From this meeting I have learnt that the common objectives and purposes of an innovation project can break the borders of European states and friendship is the most beautiful emotion which rises among the participants. I have truly connected with the other teenagers who have taken part in the meeting and we still exchange opinions and thoughts through Instagram. I had the opportunity to visit one of the most beautiful cities in Europe, London, and Cheltenham University had a great influence on me, because it is one of the best in England. I wish a big number of Romanian students could participate in such meetings. Nowadays, innovation is generally regarded as the main reason for the rise in the global economy.”- student Andreea Ana Maria Truta, VI A grade.
